SATURDAY. SEPTEMBER 22, 1900.

Weather forecast for Fred ericksburg and Vicinity. Probably showers, not so cool.

THE copious rains that have fallen in India have greatly ameliorated the condition of the famine sufferers. More than six million lives were sayed through the ministrations of Christian America and Europe. There are still two-thirds this number requiring food and support, many of them being orphans who will need care and attention for some time to come. In consequence of this the work of relief cannot stop, and must be sup ported from the same generous sour ces; otherwise millions who have been snatched from the jaws of death will again come within its grasp. What has been done in this work and what will continue to be done by Christian people should encourage moral pessimists to see that the world is not altogether as bad as they view it.

THE unstinted praise awarded Richmond over its entertainment of the Odd Fellows is no more than the city deserves. Our Capital city is becoming a convention city in truth, not only for Southern bodies but for those of the West and North also. This is but more so to the unbounded hospi-tality of its citizens. Nowhere in the Union can this spirit be excelled and tality of its citizens. Nowhere in the knows no tiring.

have peace negotiations begin, but the United States and the other Powers interested manifest a disposition to defer matters uptil they can reach some definite decision in regard to what they want negotiated. The Chinese would score a strong point if terms could be arranged to treat with the Powers separately, as that with the Powers separately, as that would give them more time to adjust their troubles; but the indications are that the Empire will have to come to a satisfactory settlement with all the Powers in order to put an end to hostilities.

THERE is reason to believe that net. Democratic harmony in New York may yet be a reslity. It is said that Mr. Croker will call the Bryan Steven son mass-meeting to order in Madison Square Garden, October 16, at which time he will introduce Comptroller Coler as permanent chairman. This is very much in accordance with the attitude which THE FREE LANCE predicted would be taken by the Hill faction after losing to Croker. We doubt if the latter, had he been defeated, would have been near so "harmonious."

THE dredging of the river here wil be completed in about one week. It is hoped that our Representative in Congress will next year endeavor to secure a much larger appropriation for this river. The small appropriations which have been made in years past have not added much to the depth of Hanna is having Mr. Roosevelt's speeches edited. Such a slippage as "we celebrate the Fourth of July because of Bunker Hill, Yorktown and Appomattox" would hardly have escaped the blue pencil. Possibly Teddy was restless under the restraint of manuscript speeches and branched out a little on his own account. He succeeded in re-making history, at any rate.

THE Republicans will carry Utah. Mr. Roosevelt has whooped it up out there, tickling the Mormon heart with the statement that President McKinley had recognized polygamy in the Sulu islands, over which the Stars and Stripes are floating. THE back-bone of the hot spell has been severed, and cool, invigorating zephyrs are now fanning the saccharine effinvia from the ruby cheeks of exquisite girls.

Coal Takes Big Jump.

The coal merchants of New York and Brooklyn have decided that the price of stove coal of all grades will be $7 a ton from now on. This is an advance of two dollars a ton within a Steam coal has advanced from $2 95 to $4 65 since Saturday.

The object of the dealers in raising the price to $7 is to stop the people who seem to have been seized with panic on account of the great strike from buying.

There are no new or startling developments in the anthracite coal miners' strick. President Mitchell, of the Mineworkers' Union, claims that there are 126,000 men out. The McKinley managers, having failed to induce the coal managers to settle the difference, have decided to take the labor end of the problem, fearing a re-enactment of the Carnegie role of 1892 for this campaign. Hobson Spoils a Good Story. Lieutenant Hobson, who was sent to Manila to raise the Sunken Spanish ships, states that the Spanish ships were sunk by their own officers and not priations are made the large boats of the Weems Line may be compelled to discontinue their trips.
